1974-75 SCHOOL COSTS IN MAINE UP 10.9% OVER 1973-74 BY STATE'S FIGURES

The cost of operating Maine's elementary and secondary schools increased 10.9% from 1973-74 to 1974-75, according to a preliminary computation made by the Maine Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

Reported expenditures show that $245,465,613 were expended in the state's school systems in 1973-74 compared to $221,436,420 the previous fiscal year.

Recording the largest percentage increases were special education and vocational education. Vocational education increased by 51.4% from $3 million to $4.6 million largely due to mandated programs in 11 new regions started at the secondary level, and programs in special education, also mandated, showed a 41.1% increase from $6.5 million to $9.1 million.

Transportation operation, or the cost of operating buses, increased by 19.3% from $11.4 million to $13.6 million, reflecting largely increased fuel costs.

Elementary school operating costs, excluding special education, went up 11% from $105.9 million to $117.5 million. Secondary school costs, excluding special education and vocational education, showed an increase of 8.1% from $68.4 million to $74 million. Largest percentage increase within the category of operating costs was heat for buildings which increased by 49% from $1.6 million to $2.4 million at the secondary level and by 44.6% from $2.8 million to $4.1 million at the elementary level.

Another overall increase was 9.8% from $16 million to $17.6 million in debt service.

Both capital outlay and bus purchases showed slight decreases. Capital outlay decreased from $7.5 million to $6.4 million, and bus purchases were down $1,669 from $2.6 million.

The cost figures were compiled from financial report summaries supplied to the MDECS by local school systems throughout the state.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Selectmen requested that a letter be sent to Harold Carver who is retiring as a member of the Water District Trustees, to express their appreciation for his services during the five years that he has been a member.

The Selectmen met on Dec. 22 for the regular semi-monthly meeting, all were present. Also present were Merton Brown, Robert Saunders, Sumner Burgess, Richard Harding and Richard Sweetser.

The filling of the vacancy on the Water District Trustees; following discussion of the position, was tabled to a special meeting to be held on Dec. 29.

Maurice Roy has been appointed to serve on the Budget Committee replacing Albert Buck who resigned.

Discussion on how to resolve the right of way problem concerning Evergreen Drive was tabled until the next regular meeting as the Acting Town Manager was unable to be present to brief the Selectmen, reporting on the information received from the Maine Municipal Association.

Clerical assistance was authorized for two weeks in January due to the increased work load.

Request to reconsider the valuation on a boat owned by Benjamin Warner, also request from J. D. Alger relative to the valuation on his Broad Street property were both discussed, the decision being that they are both satisfactory.

Abatement of a 1970 personal property tax assessed to Heirs of Henry Godwin was approved. Due to oversight it had not been abated in previous years. Reason for abatement was that the property assessed had been sold.

MT. ABRAM SKI SLOPES OPENED LAST SUNDAY

Mt. Abram Ski Slopes at Locke Mills opened officially last Sunday afternoon for the season. The snowstorms which hit the area on the week end provided the slopes with four inches of new natural snow. With the packed powder surface thus making excellent skiing conditions on the novice slopes, fair on the intermediate and limited on the expert. Until the arrival of the storms on the week end which left eight or nine inches in the area, Locke Mills had only light dustings of snow unlike other surrounding areas which had snow varying from 3 to 10 inches.

CHRISTMAS EVE SERVICE

There will be a united church service at the Bethel Methodist Church on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Thomas Caton will give the message. All churches are invited to attend.

TRUCKERS WARNED "FROZEN GROUND" LAW NO LONGER VALID

Maine Secretary of State Mark Gortley warned Maine truck owners again this week that the hard road or commonly-called "frozen ground" law was eliminated by the last session of the Maine Legislature. The Secretary of State stressed the importance of Maine trucks being aware of the fact that the frozen ground law or privilege no longer exists. Recently a Maine trucker was fined over $2,000 for overweight because he believed the law was still in effect.

Under the provisions of the frozen ground law a truck owner who had paid a registration fee of at least $100 could operate that truck during the months of December, January, and February with any legal overload. In the case of a five-axle tractor-trailer, that legal overload usually meant that a gross weight of 73,280 pounds was legal, whereas a registration fee of $100 otherwise allowed a gross weight of only 18,000 pounds.

A straight weight increase or a short term weight increase now must be obtained if a trucker desires to operate during any month with a gross weight greater than the registered weight of the truck or truck-trailer. These short term increases are available in any Motor Vehicle Division Branch Office.

STATE POLICE URGE EXTRA DRIVING CARE DURING HOLIDAY SEASON

The Maine State Police is urging motorists to be extra responsible during the forthcoming holiday season.

"During the Christmas-New Year period, Troopers will be especially alert for drinking drivers who can spoil the happiness for all of us," said Colonel Donald E. Nichols, Chief of the Maine State Police.

Motorists are advised to remember if they are not in condition to drive to let someone else drive or take them home.

"On any trip—however long or short—it's also important motorists allow for possible snowy weather, icy roads, and other drivers' mistakes," Col. Nichols said.

Troopers on patrol usually have to respond to a greater number of accidents during the holiday season; therefore, motorists are urged not to drink if they plan to drive and to use caution by driving defensively, the State Police Chief said.

Greenwood City — Bryant Pond

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres. —
At this time of year I usually recall Christmas in that one room school where I taught so many years. For weeks we drilled and rehearsed by cutting short some classes.

As the night drew nearer, many changes took place in the school room. The black boards were bright borders; poinsettias, Santa, and holly, usually colored and laboriously cut out.

From windows dangled paper chains, red ribbons, or wreaths. Above the doors were festoons of brightness. Even the portrait of George Washington was fringed with boughs.

The picking-out of a tree was usually a group affair when we all went to the forest to choose.

What a special time this was as the hills rang with our fun and laughter. The tree was dragged in by the older boys and girls, put on a standard, then fitted into the corner reserved for it. Then came the fun of trimming it, an all grade affair; from tinsel to gay bells and strings of popcorn. The graceful green boughs wore their Christmas dress proudly and well. A wire was fastened across the room in front. Bed sheets or blankets were used for curtains. Safety pins made them fast to the wire and served to move them along, smoothly.

A reliable curtain tender was chosen for the night of the performance.

Tension ran high on the last two days before THE night and almost reached a breaking point at times. Costumes for the young performers were made and placed where they could be easily reached. Older pupils often showed much talent in the making.

On the afternoon when all things were ready, as each, bundled up to leave, he took a last look from the door and said, "See you tonight." Each felt as a conspirator on a great adventure.

At the farm homes, chores were hurried through so parents could attend.

Night came and the little building was aglow with lights, an unfamiliar sight. It was like a hub of a wheel with vehicles arriving from all roads. A thrill ran up and down the spines of all who were to take a part.

Girls freshly dressed and boys in their best took the seats assigned to them and looked with awe at the loaded tree. What a thrill awaited them!

The final moment came, the curtains opened and the stage managed with precision. Each one

The young people of the Baptist Church will present the evening service at the church next Sunday evening.

The youth group went caroling last Friday evening. They visited eight different homes of shut-ins, after which they were served hot chocolate and hard, cookies and popcorn at the Ken Hoyts.

Both the Christmas play and the Sunday school program and tree were well attended even in the bad weather.

knew when to move from his front seat. The big pupils helped the little ones or the one assigned to him.

The timid beginner some times needed assurance from Teacher or a squeeze of the hand for moral support as he left to face his audience to give his long-practiced first piece.

As the program ended, with a Christmas carol and the curtain closed for the last time, Teacher who had been everywhere at once now had a calm feeling of successful accomplishment, after a hint of near hysteria during the days of preparation.

A jingling of bells was heard outside then that white-bearded Santa stepped "from the board" and brought real Christmas joy. He passed out his treat then was gone into the night.

Grade Eight took from the tree the gifts made for Mom and Dad and all the others. They were thus honored with this privilege for which they had waited these nine Christmases. This was to be their last.

As the last "Merry Christmas" was said, Teacher, who had been stage director, make-up man, prompter, and confidence giver was alone to put out the lights (I remember, too, when they were, lamps) and lock the door.

Whether lines had been forgotten or mistakes made, mattered not. It had been a glorious time. To those who have never experienced a Christmas program in a one room school of nine grades; you have missed something. You'll never know the "woven spell" it had to offer. You'll never know how a stray Christmas angel hovering low over a tiny school building can bring togetherness and heights of happiness.

Now as I write, "Happy Christmas" to you my cuckoo clock is calling the hour, again reminding me of my pupils at Greenwood City School who gave it to me one such night so long ago.

My callers this week have been

The Child Is Born

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger: because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

CMP SAYS TYPICAL DECEMBER ELECTRIC BILL TO BE LOWER THAN YEAR AGO

Central Maine Power Company's typical residential bills this December will be lower than they were a year ago as a result of low cost nuclear power, CMP has announced.

E. W. Thurlow, president of CMP, said that the December fuel adjustment charge of 2.8 mills per kilowatt hour is the lowest charge since more than a year ago when the oil embargo price hikes began to take full effect on electric bills.

Thurlow said that nearly all CMP residential customers will pay less this December for the same amount of electricity consumed last year despite a rate increase in effect since May. In December 1974 a bill for 500 kilowatt hours was $20.48. This month the bill for 500 kwh will be $17.47.

The cost of fuel to generate electricity was significantly reduced in 1975, Thurlow said, as a result of low-cost power generated at Maine Yankee nuclear power station in Wiscasset and at three other New England nuclear plants in which CMP also has partial ownership.

Nuclear power will exceed 40% of the electricity consumed by CMP customers during 1975, Thurlow said. "Maine Yankee will generate 4.5 billion kilowatt hours in 1975. It did so at about one half the cost of producing the same amount of electricity at an oil-fired plant which would have had to burn more than 8 million barrels of oil. The savings in oil resulted in the low fuel adjustment charge and a net lessening of CMP's dependence on expensive foreign oil," he said.

EARLY FILERS GET REFUNDS FASTER, IRS SAYS

Taxpayers who file their returns in January or early February can expect any refund due in four to six weeks, or roughly half the time late filers will have to wait, according to J. J. Jennings, IRS District Director for Maine.

In urging taxpayers to file early, Jennings said that individuals who delay filing until late March or April—the peak filing time—may have to wait for their return as long as ten weeks.

Another advantage to filing early, according to the Maine district director is avoidance of careless errors often made by last-minute filers who are rushed. These errors—which frequently involve incorrect arithmetic, use of the wrong tax table, or failure to sign the return—can further delay processing of the return as well as the refund check.

Mr. Jennings said that taxpayers should begin now to gather their records, such as receipts or cancelled checks, to substantiate itemized medical deductions, charitable contributions, and others. With records in order, Jennings added, the taxpayer can begin to fill out the tax return as soon as the tax package arrives by mail within the next two weeks.

Last year, 307,000 taxpayers in Maine received refunds amounting to $97,000,000.

EMERGENCY SERVICE AVAILABLE FOR THE DEAF
The Maine State Police is taking part in a statewide program to provide deaf persons, residing in Maine, the means of requesting emergency police, fire and medical services.

"Presently there are 43 deaf homes in Maine who have access to teletype machines having direct contact with the Augusta headquarters Regional Communications Center," said Col. Donald E. Nichols, Chief of the Maine State Police. "Soon there will be 100 machines in operation, allowing us to aid in rendering emergency services to these people."

The deaf program is sponsored by the Pine Tree Society for Crippled Children and Adults, through a matching federal grant from the State Bureau of Rehabilitation.

The support machine, the only one connected to a Maine Law enforcement agency, was installed at State Police headquarters at no cost.

According to Lieutenant Edward F. Wilson, Communications Officer, "When a telephone call comes in, and we hear a waivering beep tone, the phone is placed in a special coupler and the individual is asked to type their message. Normal procedures are then followed for a prompt response."

Upon receipt of a call for emergency assistance, State Police notifies the appropriate Law Enforcement or medical agency for action, Lieut. Wilson said.

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Arthur Thompson has not been feeling well for several days. His son, Clayton, is staying with him for a few days.

I got another questionnaire from a government official concerning the feasibility of stricter gun control. If I thought laws would keep guns from the possession of criminals I would be all for them, but I think the government could prevent more bodily injury and death by using more sand on icy roads than all the gun laws could possibly effect.

Kathy Bernier is home from Kents Hill School for vacation.

The ladies have been very busy making popcorn balls, wrapping presents for the community tree, decorating and putting together sunshine baskets.

The Brennons got a Christmas tree by an unusual and easy method. A passing vehicle lost one in front of their house. I acquired one almost as easily. I was in the dooryard with an axe when Roberta Belfore stopped by. She told me to put the axe away. Howie would bring over a tree and sure enough that evening when I came home one of the loveliest trees in both size and shape was by my door.

Eames of Errol came over with skidder and low boy to haul the big town truck from Mill Street where it had broken down and hauled it to Errol to repair it.

Lillian, Stuart, Jeanne and Michelle Abbott, Donna Tripp, Faith and Jonathan Crockett of Buckfield and East Sumner called on relatives in town Wednesday.

Several people have had trouble with water freezing. The nice snow cover may help to prevent further problems.

The annual school Christmas program will be held in Errol at the Town Hall on Tuesday this week.

STATE LEGION ADJUTANT SUGGESTS NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION FOR VETERANS

With the approach of the New Year's holiday, State Adjutant Daniel E. Lambert, of the Maine American Legion, is suggesting a New Year's resolution which would stress the importance of safekeeping personal documents such as military discharge papers, marriage licenses, divorce decrees, all insurance policies for veterans and dependents, correspondence with the Veterans Administration or other agencies concerning veterans benefits.

Other information which should be filed with personal documents, Lambert added, are VA claim numbers, social security numbers and where applicable, naturalization papers.

"A few moments in simple organization can do much to avoid undue anguish and problems during times of great emotional stress," Lambert reported. "These vital papers, as well as all other important personal documents, should be kept safe from fire and theft, yet readily available and their location known to all family members," the Legion State Adjutant added.

The veteran's family should be aware of possible survivor benefits such as VA pension or dependency and indemnity compensation for service connected death.

Lambert also urged that veterans should inform themselves and family members of local contacts in the field of veterans affairs as well as state and federal agencies which provided services to veterans, widows and orphans.

"Too often, the widow and children of veterans are without resources due to a lack of knowledge concerning veterans benefits," Lambert stated. The Legion state administrator said that The

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE IS 9.3% FOR NOVEMBER IN MAINE

Emilien A. Levesque, Commissioner of the Maine Department of Manpower Affairs has announced that Maine's unemployment rate increased for the third consecutive month to 9.3% in November. This is a 0.4 percentage point over October and 2.2 points over November of 1974.

The November 1975 unemployment rate represents an estimated 40,500 persons unemployed as compared with 38,800 in October and 30,700 for November 1974. The increased joblessness can be attributed to seasonal job losses in both nonfarm industries and agriculture.

Nonfarm wage and salary employment dropped from 357,800 in October to 355,100 in November, while agricultural employment declined from 11,350 to 9,530.

Employment in manufacturing industries fell from 97,500 to 96,800. Losses were recorded in food and kindred products (-800), while metals and machinery, apparel, and the paper industry lost 100 jobs each. Gains were recorded in leather and leather products (+300), and in textile mill products (+100).

Employment in nonmanufacturing declined from 260,300 in October to 258,300 in November. Losses were reported in services (-1,500); wholesale and retail trade (-500); contract construction (-400); transportation and public utilities (-300); and finance, insurance, and real estate (-100).

Government employment increased by 800, from 79,200 to 80,000, with an increase of 200 jobs in Federal Government, 1,400 in local government and an offsetting decrease of 800 workers in state government.

American Legion was trying to provide full and complete information to assist veterans in Maine.

"FROZEN ROAD LAW" REPEALED AS OF OCT. 1

The Maine State Police wants to inform those truckers who still may be unaware that two provisions of the state motor vehicle law have been changed.

The truck weight law, effective Oct. 1, 1975, repealed the so-called "frozen road law" that allowed trucks registered for a minimum $100 registration fee, to operate with the road limit for a given vehicle during the months of Dec., Jan., and Feb., without payment of additional registration fees.

"Our Traffic Division has made an intensive effort to inform truckers that the so-called 'frozen road law' is no longer law as of Oct. 1, and that trucks must be registered for the gross weight they are to be operated with," said Col. Donald E. Nichols, Chief of the Maine State Police.

In addition, section 106 of the motor vehicle law advises truck-
